DETAILED ACTION

By the preliminary amendment of 1/24/2006 claims 1-19 are cancelled and new claims 20-37 are pending.

Claim notes: It is noted that claim 21 recites 'The method of claim 21', where the claim thus depends from itself. Applicants may wish to inspect claim 21 to ensure that the claim is written as intended.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 20-28, 35, and 36, drawn to methods of ruminant mammal identification.

Group 2, claim(s) 29-34 and 37, drawn to nucleic acids and kits comprising nucleic acids.

Further Lack of Unity Restriction Requirement

If Applicants elect the invention of Group 2, Applicants shall further select a particular SILVER gene allele and its related sequences from the group consisting of: (i) Si, SEQ ID NOs: 1 and 7 (relevant to claim 29); (ii) si, SEQ ID NOs: 3 and 8 (relevant to claim 30); (iii) si<sub>1</sub>, SEQ ID NOs: 5 and 9 (relevant to claim 31). Of claims 29, 30, and 31, only the claim relevant to Applicants selection will be examined. It is noted that the primers and primer pairs of claims 32, 33, 34, and 37 require portions of SEQ ID NOs: 1, 3, and 5 that are identical among SEQ ID NOs: 1, 3, and 5.

Art Unit: 1634

2. The inventions listed as Groups 1 and 2 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

3. The common technical feature of Groups 1 and 2 is a sequence of a fragment of a SILVER gene. However this technical feature is not a special technical feature as it is anticipated by the prior art of Kim et al (1992) (as cited on the IDS of 1/24/2006), where Kim et al teaches the analysis of a nucleic acid library comprising the bovine RPE1 gene sequence (Fig 1; p.657 – DNA sequencing). It is noted that the SIVLER gene is known by the synonymous gene symbols RPE1, PMEL 17, GP100, and ME20M (p.15-16 of the specification).

4. With regard to the Further Lack of Unity Restriction Requirement, the different nucleic acids of the SI, si, and si, alleles are each structurally unique because they are composed of different nucleic acid sequences that are not common to one another. Further, as asserted by the instant specification, the different alleles of SEQ ID NOs: 1, 3, and 5 are functionally distinct as they encode polypeptides with different amino acid sequences where the different polypeptides impart different phenotypes.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims.

Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
